CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROGRAMME

operation of every individual of the community are absolutely essential. This granted, and success is assured.

To the uninitiated in this work, the idea is most prevalent that a Chamber of Commerce exists primarily to secure more and more industries. A survey of the activities of commercial organizations in other communities will prove that this is not the fact. A Chamber of Commerce stands squarely for the progressiveness of a community by alding in every possible manner the industries are ready located, because without industries are there would be no community; for equitable taxation; excellent educational facili-lighting system, as well as the removal of poles and overhead wires.

Plank VII—Transportation: Attempt to secure better freight and passenger service on the railroads: also a better boat and trolley service.

Plank VIII—Bey Scout Council: Assist in organizing a firt class Boy Scout Council in Norwich.

As will be seen, the programme is extensive and will of necessity keep the Chamber of Commerce busy for many months to come. But the public can rest assured that these problems will be tackled immediately, and a consistent, determined effort made to solve them. For this purpose, the good will and fullest cooperation of every individual of the community are absolutely essential. This
